Arbi Hamolli

Junior Web Developer

About

I have a bachelor degree in information technology. I am dedicated and focused on writing clean, elegant and efficent code as a junior web developer with 1 year experience in developing web applications.
I am ready to work in the field of web development. Also have fluent communication skills with staff and colleagues.
I do all my work professionally, but for the most part I love to develop myself in a team and work as a member of this team. I feel happy when I create, learn, explore and think about how to make things better. I really like to work with other people in order to build things that matter.
